Artist Interview: "Dance To The Rhythm" by Celestine Liu

PopFad Blog August 2, 2021

Q: Your album "Liunique" has come out recently. What is the purpose of this album?

CELESTINE: The name of my new album "Liunique" comes from a combination of the word "unique" and my last name "Liu". I've always been wanting to create a unique album that combines different musical styles together, so in this album I wrote five songs all in different genres: indie-pop, Jazz, EDM (Moombahton), Classical, etc. I also sang in multiple ways - from using the mezzo-soprano voice in "Boba Tea" to the soprano voice in "The Gentle Wind". This is really my first album that embodies my dream and passion, so it has a unique meaning to myself.

Artist Interview: "Boba Tea" by Celestine Liu

Katrina Yang August 19, 2021

Q: I love the diversity of genres in Liunique, can you tell us more about the album? What were the inspirations?

CELESTINE LIU: I've always been wanting to create an album that fuses different genres and musical elements. So in this album, I wrote five songs all in different genres, spanning from indie-pop, Jazz, EDM (Moombahton) to classical. I also tried to express my voice in many different ways - in my songs "The Gentle Wind" and "Boba Tea", I sang in the mezzo-soprano voice with the bel canto techniques, whereas in my songs "Dance to the Rhythm" and "Gut Feeling" I used the higher, soprano voice. I want this album to be unique in terms of its creativity and diversity.
